

CONVENTION DAY IS TOMORROW

La Follette Faction Are Fighting Among Themselves Over Spoils.

SLATES ARE MADE

Senator Whitehead Is On the Ground, Ready for the Fray.

TALK OF SPOONER

Madison, Wis., July 15.—Madison is convention crazy. Politics and nothing but politics are to be heard on all sides. Around the Capitol square in the hotels and in all the offices of the Capitol building groups of excited men are to be seen waving their arms and talking in earnest tones. The most unconcerned man is Col. Jerre Murphy, the Governor's private secretary. He is the busiest but still he smiles slyly like and goes on with the working out of the schemes of his master, to make the coming convention strictly a LaFollette one. Senator Miller and Crawford Harper, are to be seen talking first to this one and then to that and orders to recalcitrant politicians bring them quaking into the presence of the czar.

LaFollette has control of the convention. The delegates of the people elected by the people and for the people have come to Madison to exercise their sovereign rights as citizens only to find that they are part of the Great LaFollette machine. Mere pieces that he sets in motion and who are compelled to run whether they will or not. They have lost their identity. They are mere automatons that run at the Governor's bidding.

Senator Whitehead smiling. Up University way, at the Phi Delta Theta fraternity house, on Lake street, Senator Whitehead held an informal reception last evening. The Senator, accompanied by his law partner, Mr. Matheson, arrived from Janesville in the early evening. They went immediately to the club house and during the evening held an informal reception of the supporters of the Senator who came to pay their respects to him. Senator Whitehead was smiling and very cheerful despite the fact that figures at the LaFollette headquarters show that he is a very badly beaten man. If figures talk.

Conferences plenty. The LaFollette men are holding conference after conference. Now that they feel assured that they have the entire control of the party power they are quarreling among themselves over the spoils. There are several candidates for every office. Each one thinks his valiant work should receive the recognition due him for his work during the past months. Crawford Harper, Senator Miller and Herb Chynoweth seem to be the predominant features of these conferences. They seem to have made out the slate and have the car of the Governor.

LaFollette is aloof. Governor LaFollette is standing aloof from the fight. That is, it is said by his closest friends that he is. Still it is evident that he is dictating all that goes on and that his worthy lieutenants do nothing that he does not approve of. They follow his instructions implicitly. It is a one man convention, and gradually the country members and men who have shouted loudly for the present Governor, are beginning to realize this fact.

Is Not Seen. LaFollette is not to be seen. He is not visible to the average politician. Last week Col. Murphy said that he was preparing his acceptance speech. This week he is simply not present. If the truth be known it might develop that the Governor does not feel himself strong enough physically to stand the strain of the personal interviews that must follow the advent of the country politician who thinks he is LaFollette's best friend because he is to vote for him.

As to Spooner. The LaFollette faction feel their oats. They have determined a course as to the return of Senator Spooner. At a conference they decided that it was meet and proper for the Senator to declare himself on state political questions before he was endorsed. They want to see just how he stands as to the Stevens Bill and other topics that form the make-up of LaFollette's campaign. Should he declare against them or should he refuse to answer the impertinent demands, then they will feel that they can justly throw him down and be clear in the eyes of the people.

Impertinent Demands. The demands that are now talked of as to Senator Spooner, are impertinent. They are aimed to humble the Senator. To make him subservient to the power of the Governor. They would like to see Senator Spooner admit that LaFollette and the LaFollette republicans are the true branch of the party. They know the Senator will not do this. They know they are asking impossibilities of a man such as he is and yet they feel that if they offer to make concessions and he refuses they can clear their action in the eyes of the people of the state.

following were among those who were present: Judge A. G. Zimmerman, H. W. Chynoweth, Assemblyman E. Ray Stevens, Assistant Attorney General C. E. Buell, Crawford Harper, General C. R. Boardman, Assemblyman John W. Thoms, Frank T. Tucker, Zeno Host, Dwight T. Parker, Senator Burns, Theodore Kronshage, Senator George P. Miller, B. J. Castle, W. C. Leitch, Sheriff McKenzie and Dr. Kellogg of Portage, Judge L. H. Bancroft, Senator O. G. Munson, Assemblyman Frank A. Cady, Senator E. G. Mills, Assemblyman Wallace Andrews, F. R. Lenroot, James H. Stone, Judge Comstock, John strange, C. R. Lush, Harvey Clarke, Senator H. C. Martin, Martin Bergh, Dr. W. T. Searies, John L. Fisher, Dr. E. D. Roberts, L. M. Sturtevant, Walter L. Houser and many more.

Spooner Men Meet
The Conservative element of the party are to hold a meeting today. They have hired a hall for this purpose and they will there assemble their forces and count noses. It is fully determined that they will stick together and vote for Whitehead. They will be true to the best interests of the party and do what they consider right and not be seized by the popular demonstration and go to the standard of the executive machine. They will insist upon endorsement of Senator Spooner. They will insist that the endorsement be unqualified and that the convention make it a part of their state platform that Senator Spooner be the next United States Senator from Wisconsin. In this they will have the support of some six hundred of the delegates. Delegates, who while they are for LaFollette for Governor are for Spooner for Senator.

LATE NEWS FROM SCENE OF WAR

Talk of Combination for State Ticket—Spooner Must Be Endorsed.

Madison, Wis., July 15.—(Special.)—This is a busy day with the candidates for places on the state ticket below governor. Talk of an administration slate continues to be strong that the candidates who are not on the alleged slate have decided to hold a meeting this afternoon to take some concerted action to break it up.

They do not believe that Governor LaFollette has taken any hand in the construction of a slate, but rather that he has refused to do so, and they may ask him to let that fact be known to the delegates. The idea is being pushed, especially in the interests of Hourss for secretary of state, by some of the LaFollette men, who are close to the Governor.

Talks with some of the leading LaFollette men do not bear out the report the sentiment, at last night's informal caucus was practically unanimous for a conditional endorsement of Senator Spooner. One of the strongest of the LaFollette senators, J. H. Stout of Menominee, said today: "We would endorse Senator Spooner for re-election unanimously."

Some light on the Spooner plank as prepared by the ultra-LaFollette men is that it will ask him to withdraw his letter of retirement, and recommend his re-election by the next legislature and while not containing any condition which will call for reply from the Senator, will by inference ask his endorsement of the state platform. The state central committee met his afternoon to pass on contested delegations of which there are about a half dozen.

It is believed that the committee will seat the LaFollette delegates from the First Rock county district and divide the two Eau Claire districts. Chas. Paster and the Milwaukee delegation arrived shortly before noon. There is talk now of a combination between the Stalwarts and LaFollette candidates outside of the slate to bring about the unqualified endorsement of Spooner and the nomination of Farr for secretary of State and Kempf for treasurer.

WORK DELAYED BY LACK OF MEN

ARE ERECTING NEW BRIDGE

Scarcity of Artisans Decried Throughout Spring Brook—New Brewer
in the Ale Factory.

At Spring Brook the operations of importance at present are out door entirely, the continuance of building on the cement post factory, the grading and rail laying for the Interurban, and farming operations for the canning factory. Inside the factories all has struck an even routine channel and is sailing along with no obstructions and on the other hand, no breezes heavy enough for record breaking time.

Hard Luck Story
From the outset the cement post factory has been playing in hard luck.
First washouts stopped the work on the walls and tore down what had already been done. Then it was impossible to get the railroad spur through in time to aid in the transfer of supplies and all the hauling of brick and lumber for the building had to be done by team over heavy roads.
Even now when the spur has been completed for a week past none of the cars of brick have been run up to the building but it is still being hauled, as from the first, from the canning factory siding. The work has further been handicapped by the impossibility of getting sufficient men to do the work.

Contractor Peters declares, however, that he will push the work if everything on earth is against him. All of the lumber for the building is on the spot and the brick will be soon.
All of the wall has been laid now with the exception of a strip along the top on one side perhaps five feet high and 150 feet long. This he expects to have completed before his force stops work tonight.

Work on Spur

The slide track that was put through has rather harmed the work than otherwise. It was not completed in time to do any handling of freight cars upon it, but it prevented the wagons from unloading at the most convenient places near the building. Even now the work on the two spurs is unfinished. One has only to be ballasted to be declared complete. On the other the ties have only been laid about half of the distance. A large force is at work and it ought not to be long before their work is over with.

Smaller Than Planned

The building has not been made quite the size of the original architect's specifications but it is large enough to cause amazement to anyone who sees the length of the structure as it is. The length of the side walls at present is 756 feet, but the front end of the building has been only boarded over and an extension of 400 feet in length will be made at that point after the plant is in operation, bringing the total length of the main part of the building and the drying sheds to 1,156 feet, 165 feet more than was originally planned. A crushing and screening building is also to be erected to handle the sand before it is taken by the conveyor to the main works. It will be about 40 by 100 feet in size.

Roof On Soon

The roof is rapidly being completed. The posts which support the framework of the roof are almost all braced in place upon the piers and the rafters will soon be ready for the roofing. The work of grading within the building has been discontinued by the Hayes Brothers that the gang of men may be employed on the interurban.

Interurban Lays Rails

The Interurban has a large force of men at work in several gangs. A part of them are laying the rails and have nearly reached the Choate-Hollister Table Works. Others are grading near the furniture factory where the heavy rains have recently wrought such disaster.

Needs Men

The C. & N. W. has a force at work on the cutting of the Interurban through their embankment just beyond the furniture factory, not a large force but as large as they can get. The same howl is going up there as elsewhere. Foreman John Welsh complains that men absolutely cannot be obtained in sufficient numbers anywhere. The work there has been going on as rapidly as it could with the numbers employed, for some weeks past. The cutting has been made and the temporary piles supporting the track are in place to remain until the permanent bridge which will be of steel with stone abutments is constructed. The stone for the work is expected here today from the Green Bay region.

A trial shift has been sunk for one of the abutments to the depth of eight feet and men are at work on the others. A derrick has been erected and all is in readiness for the work when the material arrives.

At The Ale Factory

At the old Robinson Brewery, Jas.
Argall, the new brewer, who is to take charge of the work under the new management, has arrived. He came on Monday from Toronto, Canada, where he has lived since he was ten years of age. He is a Cornish-man by birth and both his father and grandfather before him were brewers.
He has worked at the business himself since he was eleven years of age and he is now sixty. Everything looks toward a big boom in the business of the ale works.

Growing Prospects Good

Nothing is going on in the canning factory at present. Even the box makers who were at work during a part of the past week are not in the building at present. The growing part of the business of the P. Hohenadel, Jr., Co., Growers and Cannors of Vegetables, is doing the work nowadays.
A large force is on the Hughes farm, hoeing and cultivating the new crops.
Everything is going finely this warm weather and the prospects for the season are the brightest possible. The finely and the warm weather of the last crop of cucumbers is coming up last few days and which gives promise of continuance is just what the corn is needing.

Work on Signal Tower

The roof of the signal tower of the C. M. & St. P. R. R. at the crossing of McKee boulevard is in place and the painters have begun their work.
Both a day and a night operator will be put on and nine semaphore posts, a mass of rods, tubes, wire and the other constituents of an interlocking system have been unloaded ready to be set in place as soon as the work on the tower is completed.

tus Taubert and Carl Taubert vs.

antly surprised to hear of her marriage to Earle Kline, of Chicago. The ceremony took place at Benton Harbor, Michigan, on July 4th. The bride has frequently visited in this city as the guest of Charles Randall.

the city Monday on business connected with the local sea market.

COLLINS CASE IS NOT SETTLED YET

STAY OF PROCEEDINGS TAKEN

City Attorney Still Carrying on a Stubborn Fight in Defense of City's Interests.

City Attorney Burpee has taken a stay of proceedings in the Collins case for ninety days, and will in all probability take an appeal to the supreme court.

He has also served a notice of re-taxation of costs on the attorneys for Miss Collins, and will attempt to get the amount of the costs, taxed after the last trial reduced. The case in all probability will not get before the supreme court until some time next winter or next spring.

A Stubborn Fight
This case has been stubbornly contested on the part of the city and has already had some five or six trials.
It has been before the supreme court three or four times and has each time been reversed and sent back for a new trial.

After the last trial in this circuit court, the judgment of $2,600 awarded by the jury was reduced by the attorneys for the plaintiff throwing off $900. Judge Dunwiddie made a further reduction and brought it down to $300. This the attorneys for the plaintiff were willing to accept, but the city was not satisfied and will take another appeal to the supreme court.

Costs $500
The costs in the case already amount to close onto $500. The case has now dragged along for several years and bids fair to go over into 1903 before it is finally settled.

Cold Spring.
The cold weather which has prevailed generally throughout Europe during the month of May, is exemplified by the weather in Vienna. According to the Wiener Zeitung the spring of 1902 has been one of the coldest known there for a hundred years in consequence of abnormally low May temperature. The average May temperature there this year is given as 51.4 degrees Fahrenheit, against 53.7 degrees F. in 1901 and a normal temperature of 55.5 degrees. The average for the three spring months this year is 46.6 degrees F., against 49.6 degrees in 1901 and a normal of 49.1 degrees. This cold weather has been accompanied by precipitation above the normal and a notable lack of sunshine.

creased Demand Caused by Unusually Large Crops.

It now looks as if the farmers would pay a high price for binding twine this fall. The price on this article has advanced steadily until it has now reached a point where the farmer will pay a good round price for all that he uses.

Can't Get Supplies
The dealers claim that they are unable to get their orders filled at the factories and what they have on hand will not last a great while. Some of the farmers put in a supply of twine some time ago before the market advanced and are congratulating themselves for their foresight.

Demand Large
On account of the immense crops in all parts of the country, the demand for twine has been so great that the factories have not been able to keep up with the demand and in consequence those who put in a large supply early in the season are realizing a handsome profit on their investment.

TRAIN HOLD-UP
IN COLORADO

Robbers Use Dynamite on Express Car and Blow Open the Safes.

SECURE CONSIDERABLE BOOTY

Passengers Are Forced to Leave the Coaches and Line Up While Masked Men Relieve Them of Their Money and Jewelry.

Salida, Colo., July 15.—Tourists from the East to the number of fifty or more were lined up in the canyon at the foot of Marshall Pass by a gang of train robbers and relieved of all their valuables. A few minutes before this the highwaymen had stopped the west-bound passenger train on the Denver & Rio Grande, almost destroyed the express car with several charges of dynamite, blown open two safes and secured their contents. The plunder, with which the bandits made their escape, nearly filled two gunny sacks, and its value is thought to have been large.

The robbery was committed at a point known as Mill Switch, near Chester, on the western slope of Marshall Pass. The train is the most important that runs on the narrow-gauge line to Gunnison, Lake City, Ouray, Telluride and other mountain towns, and, as usual at this time of the year, was filled with pleasure-seekers.

Engineer Knocked Down.

The travelers had just arisen and were enjoying the scenery of the pass which they had just traversed when the train came to a sudden stop, giving them their first warning of danger. The robbers, four in number, had boarded the blind baggage car at some small station or leaped upon the train as it was slowly pulling up the eastern slope.

Their presence was not known until one of them, rifle in hand, and wearing a white mask, crept over the tender and peremptorily ordered Engineer Ruland to stop the train on pain of death.

The engineer angrily ordered the bandit back and started to enforce his command when he was felled by a blow with the rifle, which broke the stock of the weapon.

The man was on the point of raising his gun to strike a second blow when Ruland said he would stop the engine. He then closed the throttle and applied the brakes.

One of the robbers was left to guard the engine crew while the others went to the express car. They rapped at the door of the car and demanded admittance. The express messenger promptly refused, even when told that if he did not comply with the order the car would be blown up.

Blow Open Safes.

A large charge of dynamite was set off under one corner of the car, badly wrecking the structure, and when the smoke cleared away the three robbers were pointing guns toward the ragged hole and telling the messenger not to move or make an outcry. The messenger was ordered to open the safes, but he gave an excuse for not doing so that the combinations were known only at the terminals of the line. The iron strong boxes were then blown open and their contents gathered up and put into a sack.

Meanwhile the passengers had been terrorized by an occasional shot fired in their direction whenever one had the temerity to put his head out of a window. Having robbed the express car and left one man in charge of the forward part of the train, the three robbers went to the passenger coaches, loudly ordered out all the travelers and at the point of revolvers compelled them to form a line with their backs to the rocky side of the canyon. Then, with two men facing in opposite directions covering the rank of submissive victims and another bearing a sack, they went down the file and relieved each passenger in turn of all money and jewels.

Throw Away Valuables.

After having made a clean sweep the four men ordered the engineer not to move his train for thirty minutes, and rode off on horses that were in waiting in a ravine near by.

Some of the passengers at the first alarm had thrown pocketbooks, watches or rings into the rocks, and after the train had been taken to the nearest town, so that the authorities could be notified by telegraph, they were taken back to the scene on a special car and engine to pick up what they could find.

The sheriffs of all nearby counties have sent posses in pursuit of the thieves, but because of the mountainous nature of the country there is not much hope that any of them can be captured.

DIES IN RESCUING A BROTHER

Solomon Greathouse Is Overcome While Trying to Save Others.

Marietta, O., July 15.—Two men were suffocated by fire damp in the bottom of an old well on a farm at Hilsop. Jacob Schlarf exploded a charge of nitroglycerin in the well and then went down to clear away the debris. He was overcome and George Greathouse went down to his rescue. Greathouse also was overcome, and his brother Solomon descended to assist him. He succeeded in getting George to the surface, but was overcome and died in the well beside the body of the first victim. He leaves a wife and five children, and Schlarf is survived by a wife and one child.

BREAK IN KEOKUK LEVEE

Damages Amounting to $30,000 Result—Whatcheer Is Overwhelmed by a Cloudburst, Which Washes Away Nine Buildings.

Ottumwa, Iowa, July 15.—The Des Moines river at this point is eighteen feet above low-water mark. Nearly one hundred families have been obliged to abandon their homes.

Traffic on the Rock Island, Iowa Central, and Burlington has been temporarily suspended in this vicinity.

Eddyville and Oskaloosa report great damage from floods and heavy rains. The Skunk river at Brighton and the Iowa river at Iowa City are at their highest points, submerging many houses and doing great damage.

A cloudburst at Whatcheer washed away nine buildings, entailing a loss of $25,000. A wall of water four feet high came rushing down a dry run in the heart of the city at 3 o'clock. Residents barely had time to escape with their lives and were unable to save any property. The buildings most damaged included the Methodist Episcopal church.

Levee Breaks at Keokuk.

At the mouth the Des Moines river rose eight feet and is still rising one inch an hour steadily, notwithstanding the breaking of levees. The levee of the Keokuk Canning company broke and thousands of acres of cucumbers and tomatoes and 2,000 acres of corn were flooded. The loss of the canning company is $10,000, and to farmers twice as much more. The total loss at Keokuk was about $30,000, and there is danger that this will be quadrupled in Clark county, which is protected now by only the Egyptian levee, the last stand against the advancing waters. Herculean work done at other levees nearer the Des Moines river was all for naught.

Cloudburst Causes Flood.

The cause of the flood was a cloudburst near Given, with a rainfall of five inches over a large section near the river.

Points hurt worst by the flood of last week with the capital city for the center were not much hurt by this later storm. All points between here and Keokuk will suffer great damage and the loss in the lower fifty miles of the Des Moines river totals hundreds of thousands of dollars, chiefly to fine corn fields.

Official reports of the Weather Bureau office from up-river points are to the effect that the river is falling slowly.

KANSAS RIVERS FALL.

Much Damage Has Been Done to Grain in the Fields.

Manhattan, Kan., July 15.—Fear of further floods in this vicinity are past, the Blue and Kaw rivers having fallen nearly five feet. The receding water has revealed several bad wash-outs on the Union Pacific east of here, and makes more apparent the loss to wheat and oats. Thousands of dollars' worth of grain have been destroyed, the wheat and oats in the valleys that have been submerged being practically a total loss.

At Argentine water from the Kaw broke through an improvised earth dike and flooded a large tract of land, rendering forty-five poor families homeless. The Missouri and Kaw rivers at Kansas City are both higher than at any time since the present flood began.

The Russian settlement on the outskirts of Topeka is still surrounded by water, and all its inhabitants have moved to higher ground. South of Topeka the water is spreading out over the valley, but it is believed that without additional rains the water will soon recede along the entire stream.

Gymnastics

Will do much to develop a muscular body. But the strength of the body is not to be measured by its muscle, but by its blood. If the blood is impure, the body, in spite of its bulk and brawn, falls an easy prey to disease.

There is no medicine equal to Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the purifying of the blood. It carries off the poisons which contaminate the life fluid. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands and gives the body an increased supply of pure, body-building blood. It builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh instead of flabby fat, promotes the appetite, feeds the nerves, and so gives to weak, nervous people vitality and vigor.

There is no alcohol contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," cocaine and all other narcotics.

"I feel it my duty to write to you of the wonderful curative powers of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes George S. Henderson, Esq., of Danville, Lee Co., Florida. "I had a bad bruise on my right ear and my blood was badly out of order. I tried local doctors, but with no good results. Finally I wrote you the particulars in my case and you advised your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I began to take. From the first bottle I began to feel better, and when I had taken eight bottles the sore was healed up. I wish you success."

COLOMBIA AKS TOO MUCH.

The draft of a Panama canal treaty submitted by the Colombian government provides for the immediate payment to that government of $7,000,000 by the United States. At the end of fourteen years there is to be an agreement as to further compensation. If the two governments cannot agree the matter is to be submitted to arbitration.

It is said a hint has been given Secretary Hay, that a treaty containing the latter provision will not be ratified by the senate, and that for this reason he has proposed to Colombia that the demand for further compensation be dropped. To this, it is said, Colombia demurs. The Colombian government, as it is only natural, wishes to get all it can for a concession the value of which—and the readiness of the United States to spend money for—it probably overestimates considerably. Colombia now receives an annual income of $250,000 from the Panama railroad, which it will cease getting if the canal is constructed. The quarter of a million is of great value to the government of a bankrupt state tormented by incessant revolutions which interfere with the steady collection of taxes. The men who manage the Colombian affairs would like to have a large cash payment and to be assured a regular income in addition. They will try to make the best bargain they can, not so much for the sake of their country as for their own sakes.

As the faction which runs the government considers its own interests chiefly, it is probable that it will yield to Secretary Hay and not run the risk of losing the seven millions or whatever sum may be finally agreed on as a cash payment. With that much money in hand the president of a South American republic could afford to throw up his job at once and emigrate to Paris. Or, if he does not choose to do that, he can use part of the money in buying military supplies for the army which keeps him in power.

There is no reason why the United States should bind itself to contribute yearly from its treasury to the revenues of Colombia. That country will be fully compensated for any concession it may make by the construction of the canal. The work will give to the province of Panama wealth and security. There will be constant peace on the isthmus after the United States once begins operations there. A cash payment of $7,000,000 will be all—or more than—Colombia is really entitled to for allowing the United States to build the canal.

Alleged senatorial opposition to a treaty binding the United States to pay a yearly income to Colombia for the privilege of benefiting Colombia is altogether reasonable. The canal will cost this country quite enough without subsidizing Colombia.

ALASKA.

A million dollars a month is the estimate made by the Bureau of Statistics of the present value of the market which "frozen Alaska" offers the producers and manufacturers of the United States.

"Commercial Alaska in 1901" is the title of a monograph just issued by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics. In it are presented some striking figures about this (until recently) little explored and little understood territory of the United States. By reason of the application of modern systems of travel and transportation, Alaska is now as accessible as Arizona. Three days travel by modern ocean steamers from Seattle, among the islands and along the coast which forms the southeastern extension of Alaska, lands the traveler at Skagway; twelve hours by rail over the mountains carries him to the head waters of the Yukon river which is navigable for more than 2,000 miles at this season of the year. From the mouth of the Yukon another comparatively short trip, by steamer, carries him to Cape Nome—the latest and greatest of the gold fields of Alaska.

Gold, fish and furs are, according to this monograph, the principal industries of Alaska at the present time and they send to the United States 15 million dollars worth of their products, 8 millions of gold, 6 millions of fish, chiefly salmon, and the remainder furs.

The cost of Alaska was $7,200,000. The revenue which the government has derived from it since its purchase amounts to over 9 million dollars, and the value of the products are now twice as much every year as it cost. The total value of the products of Alaska brought to the United States since its purchase is (according to the best estimates that the Bureau of Statistics is able to chiefly salmon and 50 million more furs, chiefly seal fur. Probably 50 million dollars of American capital are invested in Alaskan industries and business enterprises, including transportation systems. In the salmon fisheries alone, the companies engaged have a capitalization of 22 million dollars and the value of their plants, including vessels, is given as 12 million dollars. In the mining industries there are large investments the great quartz mill at Juneau being the largest quartz stamp mill in the world, while several other quartz mills represent large investments. With the inflow of capital, the development of transportation systems, and the gold discoveries, has come the building up of towns and the development of cities with modern conveniences of life. Nome City which is located a comparatively short distance south of the Arctic circle has now a population of over 12,000; postal facilities have been so extended that the number of postoffices is now about 60, and mails are regularly delivered north of the Arctic circle.

THE FUTURE.

Ere long the American people must face this great question: "How can we sell our surplus products profitably?" That issue will soon overshadow all others. It can not be shirked. The great policy of protection has borne its fruits. Our potential capacity of production now exceeds that of any other nation, but we cannot ourselves consume all we produce. Our factories must close unless we find new outlets.

The nations of the earth against whom we are discriminating by our own laws will retaliate by shutting out our products by the artificial barriers of protective tariffs, enacted to exclude all that our manufacturers make and all that our farmers produce, unless we apply the Golden Rule—the wisest measure of political expediency, and the most effective measure for preserving and further promoting the true prosperity of this country.

Let Congress appoint a commission of intelligent and conservative men—not political hacks, but men who have the welfare of the country at heart—to report to the next Congress a proper reciprocity bill which will conserve the welfare of our people and satisfy the reasonable demands of the nations of the world, who will not take our products unless we will not accept theirs on equal terms.

It is the general public now that is interested in the strike. The public that wants to eat fresh vegetables and eat good foods. The public that always has to suffer in labor troubles as well as the strikers themselves. The strike is a senseless one and while the railroads are right, for the sake of the public, they should concede to the requests.

That little man who has started to cross the Atlantic in a 38 foot boat in search of fame, would do well to go up on the Niagara river and take a good start and go over the falls. Then the fool hunters could spend days searching for his body.

Again the suffering public comes in on the coal question. The man with the furnace to feed, knows what it is going to mean to him to keep his bin full with the black diamonds soaring way up because there is not enough of them above ground to meet the demand.

Strange as it may seem, Ex-Governor Hoard has really come out strongly defending John C. Spooner. He has not only done that, but it is understood that he has told "Bob" that he does not approve of the turning down of the Senator in the manner that is planned.

Big Ike Stevenson will be at Wednesday's convention and he will take his views with him. When Uncle Ike gets his glasses on and his sleeves rolled up, he means business. This time he has got his vest off, too.

Vegetarians need not rejoice too soon. Before long some one will start a lettuce and turnip trust and then where will they be?

Poor Lord Kitchener has also been a victim of Post Laureate Austin and this one is worse than the one about King Edward.

PRESS COMMENT

Milwaukee News: Should Mr. Wall be prevailed upon to permit his name to be presented to the Democratic nomination for governor, no man nor set of men could withhold from him the honor. The course pursued by Mr. Wall in 1896 when he refused to abandon his party, endeared him to the rank and file of the Democracy.

Eau Claire Leader: The agony will soon be over. All eyes will now be directed to Madison. It is generally conceded that LaFollette has a majority of the delegates but those delegates are also in favor of Spooner. If those of the governor's friends who will rule the convention refuse to endorse Mr. Spooner, the delegates may find it necessary to make the choice between the present governor and the senator.

Milwaukee Free Press: There are half a dozen of candidates for secretary of state, and as many or more for the treasuryship—some supporters of the administration, some opponents. Is the governor expected to mix in those contests and settle them?

Well, he will never do it. And he will not do it in any of the other contests. It is to be a fair fight and no favor, and no executive interference. And may the best men win.

Pittsburg Dispatch: Incredulity naturally arises with regard to that story that a monkey was one of the dinner guests at Newport. We doubt its veracity. Nevertheless, if it is true, the most cogent comment is that of the New York Post, which says it disproves the slander that the Newport people are ashamed of their ancestry.

Racine Journal: The Stevens primary election law and the several substitutes therefore, are dead. It will be of no good to revive any one of them in the state convention. It will be a great mistake if that rejected measure is forced upon the convention.

Oakosh Times: Col. Watterson is becoming madder and madder at Grover Cleveland. Meantime Mr. Cleveland doesn't seem to be greatly agitated, while the belief is gaining ground that Col. Watterson is unnecessarily warm under the collar.

LaCrosse Republican and Leader: Bribers, forgers, etc., are having a change in the playing rules this season. Under our new treaty with Mexico they can be tagged in that country if found hereafter.

Hudson Star and Times: The state of Wisconsin appears to want La Follette's re-election and the world at large wants the re-election of Col. John C. Spooner. Here would seem to be glory enough for everybody as Admiral Schley would say.

Green Bay Gazette: The stalwarts are certainly in a sea of perplexity at present. If they hurrah for Governor LaFollette they are accused of endeavoring to climb into the band wagon and if they keep silent they are called bolters.

Chicago Daily News: President Roosevelt will receive no delegations at Oyster Bay. Two years hence, however, if he is a candidate, the picket fence will probably suffer.

Memphis Commercial Appeal: Chicago thieves have stolen an electric car and the country marvels. Other highly respectable gentlemen have stolen entire railroads and no one is surprised.

Buffalo Express: The Wilkesbarre man who has married his step-mother and thus becomes his own step-father must have a vast amount of confidence in his own gentle instincts.

Oakosh Northwestern: People who fall in love at first sight should always stop to take another look. It may save them a great deal of trouble in future years.

Green Bay Gazette: Wireless telegraphy is an accomplished fact. Now why not wireless telephone, wireless electric roads and wireless politics?

Milwaukee Journal: Now really Mr. Republican, in view of the affairs in the state, can you blame Senator Spooner for wanting to go east again?

Show Leakage: City Electrician Klein has been making a number of tests along the line of the Janesville Electric Railway company to discover the escape of electricity from the rails to the pipes of the Water Works company. The readings taken at different times and at different places along the line show considerable leakage. The track is improperly bonded in many places and in other places the bonding is broken. An ordinance covering this was passed by the council on January 7, 1901, but as yet no action has been taken under it.

Building Finished: Masons have nearly finished their work on the Merrill building at the corner of Jackson and West Milwaukee streets. The store building next to Cove Van Kirk's has already been rented and will be moved into as soon as completed. Upstairs there are three suites of rooms. The first of these at the west side of the building will be used as office rooms by Doctors Pemberton and Field, who are now on the first floor in the same building. The second and third are both to be used for dwelling apartments. The first and second series of rooms together occupy the space formerly taken up by the old Columbia hall.

STRIKE EFFECTS FELT IN EARNEST

LOCAL MERCHANTS ANXIOUS

Absolutely Impossible To Secure Produce from Chicago—Must Purchase Goods Elsewhere.

The freight handlers' and teamsters' combined strike in Chicago has struck Janesville and struck the city hard. It is almost impossible with a few exceptions to get any goods whatever from that strike-infested city, and the prospects for the future are far from favorable. While it is true that in case of a complete shut-out on the lines of goods that are commonly obtained from Chicago, it will be possible to obtain the same articles from other sources it will mean great disadvantage to the grocers and commission men who are principally influenced and there must be a corresponding decrease in supply and raise in prices of the commodities affected.

No Chicago Freight
The majority of the grocers and commission men have received absolutely no freight from Chicago for several days. One exception is noted in the case of the Janesville Wholesale Grocery House where a car was received from Chicago which was shipped from the yards there last night. The only explanation that can be advanced for this condition is that either the car was loaded by the house doing the shipping, or that it was loaded previously to the general strike of the teamsters.

Orders Not Filled
With the same house, however, there are several shipments that were ordered but from which nothing has been heard. Chicago houses have counseled dealers generally to make no further orders until relief is in sight and past orders have not been touched in many cases. This condition will mean that there will be a corresponding gain in the size of the orders placed with other houses.

Order Elsewhere
In the past a certain number of orders have been placed with houses in Battle Creek, Michigan. There will be a decided increase with orders in that direction. Milwaukee houses will also be called upon more freely than formerly. The great danger is that they will not be able to meet the greater demands which will be made upon them.

Docks Closed
The Milwaukee route of shipping from Chicago has been entirely closed since the teamsters have gone out and it is impossible to get anything out from that city by way of the docks and steamer lines. For a few days after the beginning of the strike the water shipping lines were largely used to transfer the goods which could not be gotten out of Chicago by the railroad lines.

Larger Express Business
All this of course means, that the express-lines are doing larger business than formerly. It is not so largely true as would be expected but it will inevitably mean a very decided increase in their consignments. With Monday the increase began to be felt and it will probably mount up rapidly from now on to the end of the strike. The great thing to be feared is that the express wagon drivers will also get in line with the teamsters and then conditions will assume a truly serious aspect.

A Strange Situation
It is hard to understand the statement at the freight offices that there has been practically no appreciable falling off in the quantity of shipments by the regular Chicago cars. These cars have with a few exceptions been arriving regularly from the beginning of the strike. The freight agents give no explanation of this situation.

No Change
The news of the Chicago situation as received by Hanley Brothers from their Chicago main office is that there is no change in the situation. The railroad company seems determined to continue their fight and the striking unionists feel that this is a case where no compromise is expedient. Hanley Brothers have been unable to get any cars here today and their customers are waiting anxiously for the latest word from the central offices.

WARM PROGRAM THIS EVENING

Scheduled at the Myers Grand—Boxers and Wrestlers Arrived Today.

All preparations for the boxing and wrestling carnival at the Myers Grand this evening were completed this noon and the exhibition promises to be one filled with excitement.

The first event on the program will be called at 8:15 o'clock and will consist of six rounds of boxing between two local lights.

The second number no doubt will be fully up to expectations and will be a six-round go between Kid Kelly of Chicago and Harry Wainwright of Milwaukee.

Schott of Watertown and George Curtis of West Superior will wrestle as the last number on the program.

The seat sale opened with a rush this morning and the indications are that a well-pleased audience will leave the Myers Grand tonight.

NEWS OF THE CITY IN BRIEF.

Circus Grain: The Northern Grain Co. secured the contract to furnish the hay, straw and grain for the circus, September 4.

Circus Man Here: W. Ball, advance agent for the Sells-Foranpaugh show, was in the city Monday, arranging for the appearance of that aggregation in this city this season.

Visit County Farm: The building committee of the county board, met Monday morning and went to the county farm to look up the matter of increased fire protection as adopted at the last meeting of the board. They have a standpipe system under consideration.

Enjoys An Outing: Dan, one of the gray team used on the hook and ladder, dodged out of the house Monday afternoon and gave the boys a half hour's chase before they could get him back into his stall. He seemed to enjoy his outing as much as if he was going to a fire.

Runaway: A horse attached to a light buggy ran away last evening and went the length of Milwaukee street before he was caught. He kept clear of the rigs along the street and did very little damage to the buggy.

Repairing Bridge: Street Commissioner Fredericks has a force of men employed today in replacing the worn and dangerous planks in the sidewalk of the Milwaukee street bridge. It is the intention of the highway committee to redock the bridge as soon as the necessary timbers arrive.

Sept. 4: R. G. Hau, an advance man of the Forepaugh-Sells circus made arrangements for that organization to visit Janesville on Sept. 4.

Bad Storm: The storm that visited this city last evening was quite severe in the vicinity of Watertown and Waukesha. At Waukesha an elevator was struck by lightning. The fire that followed was put out before any damage was done.

In Municipal Court: The case of L. O. Ludlow against Dr. J. W. Jones of Clinton is on trial in the municipal court this afternoon. The action arose over a dispute in regard to wages due to Ludlow while in his employ of the doctor. W. O. Newhouse, John Cunningham and William Jones of Clinton are the attorneys in the case.

Golf Today: This afternoon the married and the single men of the Mississippi Golf club are battling for supremacy. Both sides are confident of winning but the single men think that they have a slant the best of the fight. The married men have been keeping in practice for the last three weeks for the event and if they succeed in winning the match they will probably be selected to play Madison.

Damages Factory: The rain last evening did considerable damage at the Isabel factory. The roof is being raised to conform with the roof on the new building erected by May or Richardson adjoining the factory. When the storm struck the rain beat in in numerous places, damaging considerable stock. Mr. Taggart hustled around and secured a large tarpaulin from the Janesville Carriage Works and succeeded in protecting the most valuable stock from damage. It looked for a time as if they would be flooded.

Board of Review: The board of review finished their labors Monday morning and adjourned sine die. They have been in session at the clerk's office every day since June 10 to hear any protests that might be made on the assessment. Those who have a grievance and did not take advantage of the meetings, to make it known, should be barred from further hearing. The assessment rolls are now in the hands of the city clerk and will be presented to the council next Monday evening for acceptance.

Annual Meeting: The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Janesville Machine company was held today at the company's offices for the purpose of electing a board of directors and officers for the ensuing year. The company's business during the past year has been very good and the outlook for the ensuing year is very encouraging. During the last year the company has made many improvements in the plant and now has one of the most complete manufacturing interests in the country. In all probability there will be very little change in the personnel of the officers and board of directors.

WILL PLACE ALL NEW CULVERTS

A THOROUGH OVERHAULING

Northwestern Road Doing Some Good Work in Repairing.

The Northwestern railroad company is spending a large sum of money in the improvement of the bridges and culverts on the Evansville cut-off near this city. They will put in three culverts with eight foot arches and one with a fifteen foot arch. Culvert No. 102, near the Palmer hospital has been completed and the crew is now working on numbers 103-4.

The Big Culvert

The big culvert with the fifteen foot arch will be just above Greenland and is considered large enough to carry off any freshet that may run down through the hollow. The culverts are all built of brown granite and will all wear for many years.

The work is being done under the supervision of John Lang of this city, who has charge of the most of the stone work done by the company in this territory.

Take All Summer

A work train steam cranes, pile drivers and a large force of men are engaged on the work which will take the most of the summer to complete.

Part of New System

The building of the heavy stone arches and culverts of this character would seem to be a part of the double track plan of the Northwestern between this city and Madison. The culverts and arches are all being built wide enough to allow for a double track. The road now has a double track north of Madison and from Chicago to Harvard. It is only a question of a short time until the traffic of the road will grow to such proportions that a double track will be necessary to handle the business.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

Full of it I wish when reading some historical romance. I'd lived a hundred years ago, and had the happy chance of courtesying to dainty maids, or tripping toe and heel. And leading with some one I loved an Old Virginia reel. I feel that I've been cheated of a quite idle life. Of meeting those who steered the Nation safe through storm and strife. Of having lived with Jefferson, the Nineteenth century's morn. When trousers buckled at the knee and powdered wigs were worn.

Prosperity seems the life to-day, too much imbued by self. And mad, unyielding push for proud position, place and pelf. I like to dream myself as one with Madison, Monroe, John Randolph, Adams, and the rest, the I feel myself dissatisfied with living in an age.

Where wealth doth all but honor buy, and all but grief assuage. Would I had lived where minute-men King George's rule had shorn. When trousers buckled at the knee and powdered wigs were worn.

But, since I come to think of it, I fear I could not hold. And pour hot tallow round a wick within a candlestick. A muzzle-loading, flint-lock gun would scarce my standard reach. I'm so used to those that take a cartridge in the breech. I'm sure I'd miss the telephone and telegraph, and far above these two I'd miss the fast express. Men must have lived a backwood life, and tread a path forlorn. When trousers buckled at the knee and powdered wigs were worn.

Story of a Birth Certificate

By Benjamin H. Ridgely.
(U. S. Consul at Geneva.)

(Copyrighted by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

THE HON. PHILIP HOWARD, bachelor, 30 consul of the United States of America at G—, never knew exactly how he succeeded in securing his appointment, but he did know that in applying for it, he had vaguely imagined that he was to have nothing to do except to draw his meager salary and amuse himself. Now, after six months at his post, he had made three important discoveries: First, that there was a great deal of serious work to do; second, that he, being ignorant of the language, was absolutely incompetent to do it; and third, that he was hopelessly in love with Mlle. Marcelle du Pont, the young lady whom he had engaged to teach him French. Marcelle du Pont was a sweet, gentle girl of 20, with a face as fair as an Andalusian day, and a voice that breathed music. After the third lesson she saw the love-light in Philip's eye.

"Mademoiselle," Philip said, abruptly, "what is French for heart?"

"Coeur, Monsieur," she replied.

"Bien," rejoined Philip, "and how would you say 'with my whole heart'?"

"De tout mon coeur, Monsieur," Marcelle answered, demurely.

"And how would you say: 'I love you'?"

"Je vous aime, Monsieur."

"Good," cried Philip; then looking

"YOU MUST LET THE LESSON GO TO-DAY."

her squarely in the face, he said: "Mademoiselle, je vous aime de tout mon coeur."

"Monsieur's accent is very bad," observed Marcelle, naively. "It is even worse than that of the American dentist."

But that was five months ago. Last night under the trees of the Jardin des Bassins he had said to him: "Gai, Philip, je t'adore," as only a French woman honestly in love could say it. Thus it was that Hon. Philip Howard, consul of the United States of America at G—, on a salary of $1,500 a year, found himself engaged to be married to the prettiest and one of the poorest girls in French Switzerland, for Marcelle du Pont, although she gave music lessons, did not even own a piano. And what was worse, there was to be a change of administration at Washington within six months and Philip's tenure of office was already a disloyal view. "It would be just like them to kick me out on my wedding day," he groaned; "and if I haven't yet got some money." And Philip, with a heavy heart, turned to his American mail which had just arrived. Among other letters he found the following:

San Francisco, Oct. 3, 1899.

To the American Consul, G—. Dear Sir:—The late William Markham, of this city, received some fifteen years ago from one of your predecessors, a communication in regard to the case of a child, Eva Cottam, whom it appears was deserted by her mother at Nice in 1878 and who was subsequently taken to G— by the nurse to whom her mother had entrusted her. The grandfather of this girl has just died and left her the bulk of his estate amounting to about $20,000. If you can find any trace of her G— or else where, we would be greatly obliged if you would communicate at once with the undersigned.

Yours very truly,
BLAND & JONES,
Attorneys-at-law.

"Why didn't I find Eva Cottam, American heiress, and fall in love with her instead of Marcelle du Pont, French teacher of music and languages?" grumbled Philip. Then he went to his bookcase and took down the great record-book bearing on the outside page this descriptive title: "Record of Births—Deaths—Marriages and Other Happenings of Personal Interest in the Consular District of G—. From 1876 to 1899—"

As he was looking through the index, the door of the consulate opened and Mlle. du Pont entered.

"It is time for your lesson, Monsieur," she said, with a certain gentle reserve which she always maintained with Philip when acting in her capacity as his French teacher, even in spite of their engagement.

"You must let the lesson go to-day and help me with something else," said Philip; "here, read this," and he handed her the letter he had just received, which Marcelle read with undisturbed interest.

"It is a chance to make some money if you find her is it not, Philip?" she cried, enthusiastically. "Certainly she would be generous if you should put such a great fortune in her hands."

"I hope so," said Philip. "I think I might legally ask at least three percent; that would be $6,000, 30,000 francs."

Marcelle clapped her hands joyously. "We need certainly fear nothing with 30,000 francs in the bank," she cried.

"No," said Philip, "but we haven't discovered the girl's whereabouts yet, and I doubt if we ever shall."

Meanwhile he had turned to page 106 of the big record book. Here we found the following entry:

COTTRAM—June 15, 1878: Eva Cottam, 2 years of age, born at Lucerne of American parents as attested by her birth certificate, was this day brought to this Consulate by one Marie Barbier of No. 3, Rue des Grottes, G—, who states that she was formerly employed as "governess" at the Hotel des Angles, Nice, that on the 24 day of March, 1878, there came to the hotel, Robert Cottam and Emily Cottam, his wife, and that they had with them their infant child, Eva; that they engaged her, the said Marie Barbier, as governess, and that she immediately entered into their service; that on the 6th day of April, Mr. and Mrs. Cottam left the hotel saying they were going to Monte Carlo, that instead, they went to Paris, and from there wrote to her sending five hundred francs and begging her to keep their child until they came for it. They gave no explanation of their strange conduct and in May, 1878, Marie Barbier saw an account of a railway wreck at Jor in France, and she learned that the killed were Mr. and Mrs. Cottam. It is presumed that they were on their way back to Nice to get their child.

(Signed.) BENJAMIN HEMMICK, Consul.

A second entry was as follows: August 3, 1878.—Since making the above entry, I have communicated with William Markham at San Francisco, father of Mrs. Robert Cottam, telling him of the presence of his grandchild here and asking him what he desired. He desired that she be made the little one. He answered me curtly stating that his daughter had eloped with a blackguard and that he would assume no responsibility for the fruit of such a marriage. Mademoiselle Marie Barbier agrees to keep the child upon condition that she may adopt it as her own, to which I have consented, and she now has in her possession. She is an honorable and industrious woman with some savings of her own and a respectable home at No. 3 Rue des Grottes.

(Signed.) BENJAMIN HEMMICK, Consul.

"It is a very sad story," said Philip, softly, as he finished reading the record aloud to Marcelle. "I hope I shall be able to find the poor girl; you must help me, Marcelle; we must look at once for Marie Barbier, the governess."

"I happen to know Mlle. Marie Barbier very well," said Marcelle, quietly. "What," cried Philip, "do you mean?"

"Undoubtedly, Monsieur," said Marcelle; "but she is no longer Marie Barbier; her name now is Marie Barbier du Pont. I have just left her and she, too, had received a letter from San Francisco. She asked me to bring a paper and show you. Have the kindness to examine it, if you please."

"What is this," cried Philip, excitedly, as he hastily scanned the document which Marcelle had handed him.

"It is a birth certificate, Monsieur le Consul," answered Marcelle, "my own birth certificate. I am the adopted daughter of Marie Barbier du Pont," and as Philip read from the paper the name "Eva Cottam," she buried her head upon his shoulder and burst into tears.

SHOPPING IN CHINA.

The Purchaser Carries a Pair of Scales with Him and Keeps the Dealer Honest.

In China liquids are sold by weight and grain by measure. John buys soap by the pound and cloth by the foot. A Chinaman never puts his name outside of his shop, but paints instead a motto, or a list of his goods, on his vertical signboard. Some reassuring remark is frequently added, such as "One word hall." "A child two feet high would not be cheated."

Every single article has to be bargained for, and it is usual for the customer to take his own measure and scales with him. A strong man has difficulty in carrying on his back $10 worth of copper cash which is the common currency, so it is necessary to take a servant to carry one's purse. The price of silver is the only other form of money besides the copper cash. As it weighs about 67 ounces a hammer and cold chisel are indispensable for making changes.

When you engage a servant or make a bargain it is not considered binding until "the fastening cent" has been paid. Although his bad faith is notorious in some matters, yet, to do him justice, when once this coin has been paid by you the Chinaman, coolie or shopman, will generally stick to his bargain even if the result to him be loss.

STRIKE QUESTION UP TO DELEGATES

Men Now Assembling at Indianapolis Hold the Key to the Situation.

MAY DECIDE ON DEFENSE FUND

Are Likely to Put Backbone Into the Anthracite Mine Workers by Providing Millions for the Battle with the Operators.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 15.—Whether or not there shall be a general suspension of work among the bituminous coal miners in support of the great anthracite strike may be determined in Indianapolis by the end of this week. The national convention called to settle the matter will open Tuesday morning in Tomlinson hall.

Delegates from more than ten states, representing the most powerful labor organization in the world, are on their way to Indianapolis.

The first arrivals are from Ohio, Illinois and near states that are perhaps most vitally interested because of their contracts with the operators. There will be nearly 1,000 delegates, holding approximately 3,000 credentials.

It is conceded at this time that the convention will either favor a suspension of work throughout the entire bituminous fields or will provide, a defense fund greater than their treasury now offers, although it is said that the miners have nearly $2,000,000 in the national and among the locals.

Ralph Easley and other representatives of the National Civic Federation are expected by Wednesday. Secretary Wilson says that no invitations have been extended to any outsiders to speak at the convention.

SURE OF VICTORY.

Miners' Leaders Declare It Is Simply a Matter of Holding Out.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 15.—A big mass meeting of miners was held at Plymouth. Addresses were made by T. D. Nicholls, president of district No. 1, United Mine Workers; National Board Member John Fallon and others. Mr. Nicholls said that the outlook for the strikers was very encouraging and that if they remained firm victory would be theirs before very long. National Board Member Fallon, who has charge at strike headquarters in the absence of President Mitchell, said that he had received reports from the entire strike region, and they showed that everything was quiet. Two strikers are firm, no additional washeries in this section were started up and no attempt was made to resume work at any of the collieries.

Announces Higher Wages.

Shamokin, Pa., July 15.—The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company announced that a 10 per cent increase in wages would be paid in this region to employees who had remained at work since the strike started.

Kidnap Nonunion Man.

Hazleton, Pa., July 15.—Unknown persons raided the home of William Hussman, a nonunion man at Upper Lehigh, and after getting Hussman and his wife out of bed attempted to burn the house. During the melee the stove upset and all the furniture was destroyed. Neighbors extinguished the fire. Hussman was led away by the marauders and is still missing.

Strike at Leavenworth.

Leavenworth, Kan., July 15.—Two hundred coal miners at the Carr mine went on strike. Two weeks ago the miners discharged their check wagonmen, but demanded that the company give him work as a minor. This the company refused to do. No question of wages is involved.

Aged Doctor Dies.

Columbus, Ind., July 15.—Dr. G. F. Watson, aged 74, is dead at his home in Nashville, Brown county. During the late rebellion and for years he held a prominent government position at Washington.

Bitten by Rabid Dog.

Spring Valley, Ill., July 15.—Several children were bitten by a rabid cur. All those attacked were lacerated in the face, and four suffering from gaping wounds were sent to Chicago for treatment.

Saline County Reunion.

Harrisburg, Ill., July 15.—The executive committee of the Saline County Veteran association met here and fixed the date for holding the annual reunion in this city for Sept. 2 to 4.

Gamblers Die.

Paris, July 15.—Patric says that twelve ruined gamblers, including a German officer, have committed suicide at Monte Carlo during the past few days.

Commissions Merriam.

Washington, July 15.—The president has issued a commission to Director Merriam under the new permanent census law, as director of the census.

Drowns in Lake Washington.

Seattle, Wash., July 15.—C. H. Wardner, aged 26, a civil engineer, was drowned while bathing in Lake Washington. He was a prominent Mason.

SOCIAL EVENT WAS DOUBLY PLEASANT

Stoughton Young People Married on the Wedding Anniversary of the Bride's Cousins.

At Stoughton a social event of double significance took place at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. Hale, on Wednesday, June 25. It was the joint celebration of the wedding anniversary of the host and hostess and of the marriage of their cousin, Miss Minnie Merton Isam to William Wallace Hubbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hubbell, of Fulton. The marriage ceremony took place at 12 o'clock, noon, in the presence of about thirty-five relatives and immediate friends. Promptly at the appointed hour the contracting parties, preceded by Rev. Irving Gowsley, appeared in the south parlor and stood before a window filled with potted plants, ferns and palms during the ceremony.

The double parlors were handsomely decorated with roses and sweet peas and the dining room with American Beauty roses and carnations. The bride was daintily attired in a pretty gown of sheer white, tucked and trimmed with lace. The ceremony and congratulations were followed by the serving of an elegant wedding luncheon. Many valuable presents testified to the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held by their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Hubbell went to Chicago on a brief wedding trip.

COME TO COMPANIES' TERMS

Freight Handlers Offer to Accept Scale Proposed by Railways.

Chicago, July 15.—In the stormiest meeting of labor forces that has been held since the freight handlers' strike began the various industrial organizations involved in the tie-up that has partially paralyzed business in Chicago reached a basis of understanding early this morning at the Great Northern hotel, formulated a set of demands to which all are pledged and predicted that before nightfall the strike would end.

These demands are essentially such as the railroad managers at one time agreed to grant. Then, however, President Curran of the Freight Handlers' union urged stronger concessions both as to wages and recognition of his organization. This position of President Curran caused the railroad companies to repudiate their former willingness and to retreat to a lower rate of wages.

Jessie Morrison at Lansing.
Leavenworth, Kas., July 15.—Jessie Morrison has arrived at the state penitentiary at Lansing to begin her twenty-five years' sentence for the murder of Mrs. Olin Castle at Eldorado. She had started for Lansing after being taken to her home, where she bade farewell to her parents and brother.

Poison in Beer.

Des Moines, Ia., July 15.—Ex-Gov. Francis M. Drake of Centerville is said to have made $1,000,000 out of the recent rise in July corn, which he purchased at 50 cents. Gov. Drake is a wealthy man, being quoted at about $2,000,000.

Vessels Take Little Grain.
Boston, July 15.—Many of the large ocean liners which make this port are leaving without an ounce of cereal. The steamships that have left during the last week carried out only 170,000 bushels, compared with 851,000 in the same week a year ago.

Big Wire Plant Closed.
Joliet, Ill., July 15.—The Scott street plant of the American Steel and Wire company, employing over 1,000 men, has closed for the purpose of making important repairs. One feature of the work will be in connection with a mammoth new stack.

A severe hail storm prevailed at Barrington Monday. Nearly every window in town was demolished.

GIRL BLOWN FROM TRAIN RUNNING FORTY MILES

Fair Excursionist Lifted Twenty Feet in the Air and Dropped in Cornfield Uninjured.

Omaha, Neb., July 15.—Miss Marie Karous of this city was blown from a train running forty miles an hour and was uninjured. She was on an excursion train running from Wilber, Neb., to Omaha. While she was attempting to pass from one car to another the strong wind lifted her twenty feet in the air and dropped her in a cornfield. The fact that she was not injured is attributed to the condition of the ground, made soft by recent rains. When the train reached the next station friends telegraphed back to the train following, and the young woman was picked up and brought to Omaha.

INDIANA WHITECAPS STRING MAN TO POLE

Take John Kane from Bed and Give Him a Coat of Varnish and Lamplblack.

Logansport, Ind., July 15.—Twelve masked men took John Kane from his bed in a little cabin near Royal Center, where he lives alone, and dragged him to the outskirts of the town. There he was tied to a telegraph pole and smeared with varnish and lamplblack. The men, who wore pillow cases over their heads, with holes cut for their eyes, then threw a rope over the telegraph pole and strung Kane up. He was left swinging a few minutes, and then the men, hearing officers approaching, cut him down. Before leaving him his assailants demanded and secured a promise that he would leave the community.

AN EARLY MORNING WEDDING

Miss Georgetta Courtney Becomes the Wife of James Madden

St. Patrick's church was the scene of an early morning wedding to-day when Miss Georgetta Courtney and James H. Madden, both of this city, took the vows of marriage in the presence of a small company of relatives and immediate friends. The nuptial mass was celebrated at six o'clock this morning, Dean E. M. McGinley officiating and pronouncing the sacred words which made the young people man and wife. The happy couple was attended by Miss Ida Croft and William Carney.

After the ceremony the bridal party was driven to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Courtney, on Western Ave., where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. Both bride and groom are well known in this city and both have the high esteem of many friends who will extend congratulations and best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous life together. The groom is employed at the C. C. Gray & Co.'s bottling works.

Mr. and Mrs. Madden left on the 10:10 train this morning for Chicago on a brief wedding trip. On their return they will go to housekeeping at 741 Eastern Ave., where they will be at home to their friends after July 30.

Reindeer Flesh for Food.

It is stated that a strenuous attempt is being made by some enterprising Norwegians to popularize reindeer flesh as an article of diet in Europe. The experiment of raising the animals in large numbers for slaughtering purposes will be fairly tried. They expect to find profitable markets in France and Belgium, and will even endeavor to induce beef-eating Britons to purchase the article.

It is not so very long ago when the best kid shoes were made from skins imported from France. Now France is buying large quantities of kid from this country.

New Religious History.

A schoolboy at a prize examination furnished the following biography of the patriarch Abraham: "He was the father of Lot and had two wives. One was called Ishmale and the other Hagar. He kept one at home and he turned the other into the desert, where she became a pillar of salt in the daytime and a pillar of fire by night."

During the progress of the banquet a message was received that Tracy had been seen at a small restaurant about twenty miles away. IS STRUCK DEAD BY LIGHTNING

Waukesha Man Killed, His Companion Close By Being Only Stunned.

Pewaukee, Wis., July 15.—One life was lost and much damage done in a severe wind and thunder storm. George Vincent, the victim, a retired jeweler of Waukesha, had taken refuge in the barn of E. P. Reford, a farmer, two miles southwest of Pewaukee, when the storm broke, and was standing in the barn doorway talking to Mr. Reford when the barn was struck. Vincent fell over dead. Reford was stunned and partially paralyzed by the shock, but he heroically dragged the prostrate body of Vincent out of the burning barn and, crawling on his hands and knees, went through the barn and liberated forty cattle just before the roof fell in. Six years ago Mrs. Reford was struck and killed by lightning, and Reford escaped.

HAWAIIAN CIRCUIT JUDGE QUITS

A. S. Humphreys Resigns Because of Difficulties with Lawyers.

San Francisco, Cal., July 15.—A. S. Humphreys has announced his resignation as circuit judge in Hawaii. He was the first judge appointed in Hawaii after annexation. Soon after taking the bench he became involved in difficulties with local attorneys, partly on account of his severity in courtroom practice, and in June, 1901, he went to Washington to defend himself against charges preferred by the Hawaiian bar association, seeking his removal. He was sustained by the attorney general and president and returned to Hawaii to resume his place on the bench.

Language of Animals.

The dog can emit four or five different tones, each indicative of a special mental condition, and each fully understood by its companions. The fowl is credited with from nine to 12 distinct vocal sounds, each capable of a special interpretation by its fellows. The gestures of the lower animals are either facial, like the grimaces of the monkey, or changes of bodily attitude, like those of a dog.

Reasons for Strikes.

A little more than 25 per cent of all the strikes are for higher wages, 11 per cent for higher wages and fewer hours, and 11 per cent for fewer hours alone.
